Multi-year funding agreement signed at Tamarac

ROCHERT, MINN. – The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the White Earth Nation, today signed a multi-year funding agreement that supports a long-standing partnership at Tamarac National Wildlife Refuge and includes lands located within the boundaries of the White Earth Reservation.

Leadership were on hand today at Tamarac National Wildlife Refuge to formally sign this multi-year funding agreement and recognize their common natural resource goals. The signing ceremony marked an important milestone in the ongoing relationship between White Earth Nation and the refuge. The agreement strengthens co-stewardship, supports the exercise of tribal expertise and helps to ensure that Tamarac National Wildlife Refuge continues to benefit wildlife, tribal communities and all visitors for generations to come.

The agreement reflects the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's commitment to working with Tribal Nations through government-to-government relationships and supports the agency's conservation mission at Tamarac National Wildlife Refuge.

More specifically, the agreement supports three main management activities that White Earth Nation will undertake with the refuge:

- Water and wild rice management to support wildlife and traditional harvest by tribal members
- Forestry to maintain and improve habitat for

WE Tribal & Community College Student Spotlight

White Earth Tribal and Community College (WETCC) honors a student each month who exemplifies academic excellence, resilience, and personal growth. Students are nominated by staff who recognize the unique and exceptional qualities of our students.

For Deziree Buckanaga, the greatest obstacle she has overcome was a 15-year battle with addiction. In 2017, addiction led to the heartbreaking loss of custody of her children and a period of homelessness while living on the streets of Minneapolis. In 2018, she made the life-changing decision to pursue sobriety. Since then, she has remained clean and sober, rebuilding her life one step at a time.

That journey of healing led to one of the happiest moments of her life—regaining custody of her children in 2020 after years of hard work, determination, and personal growth. Another unforgettable milestone came in 2022 with the birth of her son, who continues to be a source of hope and motivation.

Education became an important part of that transformation. While raising her family and maintaining her sobriety, Deziree graduated from White Earth Tribal & Community College (WETCC) with an Associate of Arts degree, a Business and Office Certificate, and a Court Advocacy Certificate. Along the way, she earned recognition on both the President’s List and the Dean’s List, demonstrating that perseverance and dedication can overcome even the greatest challenges.

When asked why she is grateful to have chosen WETCC, Deziree shared that the college welcomed her with open arms and believed in her at a time when she was ready to change her life. The supportive environment, strong cultural connections, and flexibility allowed her to succeed while balancing recovery, parenthood, and academics. She is grateful to be part of a college community that truly cares about its students.

Deziree credits her college success to persistence, the unwavering support of her family and community, and never forgetting where she came from. Staying organized, asking for help when needed, and keeping her children at the center of every goal has helped her stay focused on building a brighter future.

WETCC has also prepared Deziree for the next chapter by providing a strong academic foundation through her degree and certificates while building confidence in her abilities. The knowledge and skills she has gained have empowered her to continue her education and pursue meaningful work that makes a difference in her community.

Deziree plans to continue her education at Bemidji State University. Her goal is to use her education to help others, especially individuals in recovery and families facing difficult challenges. She hopes to be a positive role model for her children and give back to the community that supported her throughout her journey—from living on the streets to achieving sobriety, academic success, and a brighter future.

Greetings White Earth Nation I am Happy to See You!

It is already August Ricing Moon!
Everyone Be Safe & Stay Safe, August is very beautiful and very hot this time of year. I would like everyone to stay safe when heading outside for any seasonal gathering and summer activities. This month we have a borrowed story from an elder from out west named Ella Clark.
Once there was a rabbit with only three legs, but he made a wooden leg for himself so that he could move fast.

At the time the sun was very hot, and Rabbit said to himself, "I'll go and see what the problem is." As he hopped along toward Sun, he found it getting hotter every day.

"The only thing on earth that doesn't burn," said
Rabbit, "is cactus."
So he made a house of cactus to stay in during the day, and he traveled only at night.

When he came to the east, he rose early in the morning and ran toward the place where Sun should appear. He saw the ground boiling and knew that Sun was ready to come up. Rabbit stopped, sat down, and took out his bow and arrows.

When Sun was about halfway out of the earth, Rabbit shot. His first arrow hit the heart and injured the Sun. Rabbit stood over it and cried: "The white part of your eye will be clouds." And it was.

"The black part of your eye will be the sky." And it was.
"Your kidney will be a star, your liver the moon, and your heart the dark." And they were.

Then Rabbit said to Sun, "You will never be too hot again, for now you are only a big star."

Sun has never been too hot since, and after that day, rabbits have had brown spots behind their ears and on their legs. Their rabbits' fur was scorched during their journey, long, long ago, to see why Sun was so hot.

Biinjwebinigen! Make your voice heard at the ballot box.

Biinjwebinigen means, "Throw your ballot in!" It is more than just a translation of "get out to vote." It is a traditional call to action, a reminder of community responsibility, and a celebration of Indigenous civic power.

Casting a ballot is one of the most direct ways to shape the future of your community, your state, and the country. Every election decides the leaders who make critical choices about your life. Your vote directly impacts sovereignty and decides budgets for our services such as health care, education and housing.

Every election decides the leaders who make critical choices about your daily life. Your vote directly impacts funding, laws, and leadership.

- Protecting Sovereignty: Voting helps elect leaders who respect tribal sovereignty and treaty obligations.
- Funding Vital Services: Public officials decide budgets for local healthcare, education, housing, and infrastructure.
- Protecting Natural Resources: Elected representatives make critical choices regarding clean water, land management, and environmental protection.
- Representation: High voter turnout ensures that the unique needs of Indigenous communities cannot be ignored by lawmakers.

Participating in the election process is straightforward if you prepare in advance. Follow these essential steps to ensure your ballot counts.

- Register to Vote
- Check your current registration status online.
 - Update your address if you have recently moved.

- Note your state's deadline for online, mail-in,
or in-person registration.

- Know Your Voting Options
- In-Person Voting: Find your designated polling place and review its operating hours.

- Early In-Person Voting: Take advantage of early voting days to avoid long lines on Election Day.
- Mail-In or Absentee Ballot: Request your ballot early, follow the signing instructions precisely, and mail it back well ahead of the deadline.

- Bring Proper Identification
- Many states accept tribal photo identification cards at the polls. Minnesota is one of them.
 - Keep a backup form of ID, such as a utility bill or government document showing your current address, if required.

- Research Your Ballot
- Look up a sample ballot online before you vote.
 - Research candidates for local positions like school boards, judges, and county commissioners.

Voting is stronger when done together. You can amplify your impact by helping others in your community exercise their rights.

- Offer Rides: Help Elders, neighbors, or friends without reliable transportation get to their polling stations.

- Spread the Word: Share key voting dates, polling locations, and ID requirements on social media or community boards.

- Work the Polls: Consider signing up as a local election judge or poll worker to support your precinct.

When you cast your vote, you carry the voices of your ancestors and build a path for future generations.
Don't sit this election out.

Biinjwebinigen—throw your ballot in!

News From District 3 Rep. Laura Lee Erickson

As we wrap up the busy month of July, it has been great to see so many community members at events. We have experienced some high temperatures that we wait for all winter long. Please remember to check in on your elders, neighbors, family and friends. A simple visit, telephone call can go a long way.

As of July 1, it has been two years of serving as your District 3 Representative. It has been an honor and privilege to represent our communities and the members of the White Earth Nation.

Over the past two years, we have worked together to address community needs, advocate for our elders and youth. Every day brings new opportunities to listen and work alongside our members and find solutions to improve. Projects take time but we have projects in almost each village at this time. I want to say thank you to my assistant for the hard work and support provided over the past two years. I truly appreciate everything you do for District 3 and our tribal members. Miigwech for the honor of serving you. I look forward to continuing this work together.

7-1 A ribbon cutting was held at the new Waabigwan dispensary in Chanhassen, Minn. Tribal leaders and staff attended along with several Chanhassen officials. The dispensary officially opened on July 3.

We traveled back to attend the Mahnomen Community picnic that was filled with community members, program booths, food and prizes. A guest visitor, U.S. Senator Amy Klobuchar attended. Following the picnic, tribal leaders had an opportunity to meet with Klobuchar to discuss tribal priorities and goals.

7-7 Tribal leaders met with Canadian Pacific to get an update about the May trail derailment. The cleanup work continues each day.

7-8 We joined the Indigenous Parent Leadership initiative to welcome Family Well Being Strategy Group and other partners including Annie Casey Foundation. The program has made a positive impact on families and continues to grow.

7-10 The annual Elders Picnic was held at White Earth Rediscovery! It was great to see so many of our Elders enjoying the day together visiting, sharing stories, laughing- this is what makes our gatherings so special. This year, tribal elders in attendance received a $50 gift card also. A huge miigwech to everyone who attended and helped make the day memorable. A special thank you to all of the staff who worked behind the scenes to plan, organize and make sure everything ran smoothly. Your hard work and dedication are truly appreciated. Also a shout out to IHS staff for attending and jumping in to help serve food to elders! The weather was hot out, discussion about the location for next years picnic is in the works.

7-10 We took a day to recognize our employees at the RBC Employee Picnic for the dedication and hard work they bring every single day to serve our communities. The entertainment was great and the volleyball and bean bag tournaments brought some competition, and lots of smiles!

We heard a lot of anty laughs. A big miigwech to the staff who worked hard to plan and coordinate this event. Due to the smoky conditions, staff quickly adjusted the plans to make sure everyone had a safe and enjoyable day including those who could not tolerate the smoke.

Thank you to all of our employees for everything you do—you are truly appreciated! And Miigwech to all the Shooting Star Casino staff for the great food and setting up for the event!

#TEAMWORKMAKESTHEDREAMWORK

7-22 The White Earth Community Picnic was a beautiful evening spent with our community members! It was fun visiting with everyone. The cotton candy line stayed busy all night. One of my favorite parts was hearing from our youth and listening to their ideas about what they'd like to see in our communities. Miigwech to everyone who stopped by to say hello and completed a District 3 community survey. Your input is valued and helps guide the work we do together. A big thank you to the staff for preparing the meal, Frank Stech our MC and all of the programs that had booths and donated prizes to make the event successful. Together, we're continuing to make positive improvements for our families and community!

7-25/26 The White Earth Sturgeon Moon Powwow was held Saturday with grand entries at 1 and 7 p.m., followed by a fireworks show in the evening. There was also an grand entry at 1 p.m. on Sunday. The weather was a little warm but our dancers, singers and visitors showed up all weekend.

Miigwech to the White Earth Community Council for hosting another wonderful powwow and thank you to our Honor Guard, MCs, arena directors, drum groups, dancers, vendors, volunteers and everyone who attended.

7-31 Tribal leaders held an RBC quarterly meeting. We welcomed our new tribal leaders. The agenda included updates from White Earth Earth Housing, White Earth Tribal College, Indian Health Service, Community Councils, elder board updates, MCT delegates, presentation from Natural Resources proposing land be designated specifically for youth teaching hunting, cultural activities, White Earth animal shelter proposal, consent agenda, Waabwigwan issues, and public comment. Miigwech to everyone that attended.

Waubun

The new White Earth Transit building in Waubun is nearly complete. The program is aiming to move in by the end of August/September.

Elbow Lake Community

The new Elbow Lake Community Building has officially been delivered! The building will include space for the Boys & Girls Club, providing our youth with a safe, positive place along with providing community space. This is an exciting milestone for our community and a big step forward in creating a welcoming space for everyone. Miigwech to everyone who has worked hard to help make this project a reality. We can't wait to see this space come to life for

Uniform Tribal Election Ordinance: A Condensed Overview

By Sybil Gund
White Earth Delegate
Metro Area

The proposed Uniform Tribal Election Ordinance is intended to replace the Secretary of the Interior election procedures found in 25 CFR 81 with a tribal election process established through constitutional amendment. The ordinance creates a consistent framework for conducting tribal elections and constitutional amendments.

Under the ordinance, petitions for constitutional changes are submitted to the Minnesota Chippewa Tribe (MCT), where a three-judge panel reviews the petition and determines whether it may move forward.

Key Participants

- 1. Tribal Executive Committee (TEC) – May request an election with a two-thirds vote.
- 2. Citizens – May initiate constitutional change through a petition signed by 20% of resident voters.

3. Citizens Oversight Board – Consists of two citizens from each band (12 total) plus two elders to promote transparency and public confidence in the election process.

4. Tribal Election Board – Appointed by the MCT and composed of a chair and two members from each band. Responsible for election notices, ballot administration, and certification of results.

5. Three-Judge Panel – Reviews petitions and resolutions to determine whether they meet requirements for advancement.

6. Election Administrators – Carry out election operations and ensure compliance with ordinance requirements.

Ordinance Requirements

The ordinance requires absentee ballots and polling places for all elections. It also establishes strict timelines for election notices, ballot distribution, and certification procedures to ensure fairness, consistency, and transparency throughout the election process.

Winners named in annual Tribal Canoe Drawing

The annual Tribal Canoe Drawing was held July 22 at the Shooting Star Casino in Mahanomen.

The contest was open to White Earth members ages 18 and older. Five 17-foot aluminum canoes with paddles were given away. Winners from the past three years were not eligible.

There were 857 entries and White Earth Natural Resources Wildlife Manager Tess Lindow randomly picked the following winners: Lavern E. Bellefeuille, Ashley F. LaFriniere, Kayla O. Stellick, Gorman W. Greene, Marilynn S. Holt.

The drawing was recorded and posted to the White Earth YouTube channel and White Earth Facebook page.

Shooting Star bought the canoes and White Earth Natural Resources sponsored the contest.

White Earth B&B Club hosts youth basketball camp

The White Earth Boys & Girls Club recently welcomed youth from across the White Earth Nation for a three-day Basketball Camp held in Pine Point, Naytahwaush, and White Earth.

Participants in grades 3–12 had the opportunity to strengthen their basketball fundamentals, build confidence, and develop teamwork and leadership skills while learning from special guest coach Sherron Dorsey-Walker, former professional basketball player and coach.

The camp brought together youth from multiple communities, providing a positive environment where participants challenged themselves, encouraged one another, and made lasting memories both on and off the court.

The White Earth Boys & Girls Club extends a sincere thank you to Coach Sherron Dorsey-Walker, Bombas, ND42, Gatorade, staff, volunteers, families, and community partners whose support made this event possible. Their commitment continues to create meaningful opportunities for Native youth to stay active, build healthy relationships, and grow through sports.

Miigwech to everyone who helped make this year's Basketball Camp a tremendous success! We look forward to continuing to invest in our youth and bringing more opportunities like this to the White Earth Nation.

White Earth Council of Elders

By Lucille M. Silk, Chairwoman
White Earth Nation Council of Elders

The month of July has been very hot and uncomfortable for Elders, especially those with lung or heart conditions and have been advised to remain inside, preferably with air conditioning. As Elders, with underlying health concerns, we are especially vulnerable to dehydration, so we must drink plenty of liquids and try not to overexert ourselves.

The July WECOE meeting had to be delayed one week due to conflicts with other commitments with board members. We then met on July 14, otherwise regular meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month. Many issues were discussed and we try to find answers for them with the various programs that serve Elders on the White Earth Reservation.

A trip to Minneapolis for the annual Urban Elder community picnic on Sept. 16 was discussed. We are trying to seek out reasonable hotels to accommodate double occupancy for Elders, rather than a one-day trip that would be too hard for us. We must do all that we can to keep our precious Elders comfortable. We are also seeking out one-day trips that would not require an overnight stay. We decided to have a booth for the Pine Point Pow wow on Saturday, Aug. 8. The Council is seeking both bakers and volunteers to assist. Gina Boudreau and Dawn Goodwin made their presentations to the group. Gina was seeking Elders for her conference on July 28-29. The two-day conference was titled, "Return to First Medicines." Those of you that are seeking more traditional knowledge, missed a great program. Dawn is passionate about protecting Mother Earth and devotes endless hours to the RISE Project. She invites Elders to many activities through RISE, and seeks transportation and housing for Elders to attend. We are very fortunate to have these ladies advocate for us.

The quarterly meeting for Wisdom Steps Program was held July 7-9 in Grand Portage. We have not made a decision for the 2027 conference location but will advise after the October quarterly meeting. Remember to complete your health card and keep track of your weekly steps or miles, as these two requirements will make you eligible to attend the annual conference. Both cards are due by Dec. 31.

Callaway Days was held on July 18 with a large parade, many activities, and a dance. It is wonderful to see the various communities sponsoring this type of programming and to be so well attended. These functions require lots of planning and volunteers, so our many thanks to all involved.

The White Earth Community Picnic was held July 22 from 5-7 p.m. There were lots of games for children, youth, and adults. A barbecue supper was provided for all and drawings for bikes and other prizes. It was an enjoyable evening and we thank everyone that volunteered their time to make this possible.

The next meeting for WECOE is Tuesday, Sept. 1 at the Mahanomen Fire Hall. Meetings are always open and we encourage Elders to attend.

Grief is like the ocean; it comes on waves ebbing and flowing. Sometimes the water is calm, and sometimes it is overwhelming. All we can do is learn to swim.

Lera Hephner is the new Director of Ojibwe Language and Culture at Circle of Life Academy

Circle of Life Academy is excited to introduce our new Director of Ojibwe Language and Culture for the 2026-27 school year! Lera Hephner brings years of experience in culturally infused education. We are looking forward to the positive impact this position will have on our students, families, and the entire school community.

Hello everyone! My English name is Lera Hephner and I will be serving our community as the Director of Ojibwe Language and Culture at the Circle of Life Academy. I am excited to return to COLA where I started my teaching career in 2016 and be apart of the school community again.

As a long time resident of the White Earth Reservation, I consider it my home and work every day to uplift and empower our youth. When I was 8 years old, I first heard the teachings of the Seven Fires Prophecies and started to cry because of the overwhelming feeling of purpose and pride I had in being Ojibwe. I was in awe to know our ancestors knew of a time that would come where we would have to work hard and awaken our spirits, the language, and ways of being to become whole again as a people, and to guide our non-Native relatives onto a path of love, peace, and unity with all of creation.

My life's work is to help guide our youth to seek out who they are and become grounded in their identity through our Ojibwe language and culture to create a better and healthier community for everyone. I am hopeful for the future school year and all the opportunities we will bring to our students, staff, and community. Miigwech!

The day will begin with registration from 8:15 to 9 a.m., followed by a Cultural Opening. Attendees will then hear from Tony St. Clair, who will deliver an inspirational keynote focused on finding strength, hope, and resilience while managing a chronic condition.

Throughout the day, participants will have the opportunity to attend a variety of educational sessions covering important topics related to diabetes management and overall wellness. Sessions include:

- Small Moves Toward Change – Discover how simple, realistic movement can improve health and help build lifelong healthy habits.
- What About Food? – Learn practical nutrition tips, including grocery shopping strategies, portion control, reading food labels, and meal planning.

- Beat the Burnout – Explore the connection between stress, mental health, and diabetes while learning ways to stay motivated and find support.

- Managing a Diabetic Emergency – Local EMS professionals will discuss diabetic emergencies, how to prepare, and what to expect during an emergency response.

- Movement activity – Participate in a fun and accessible activity that demonstrates how movement can fit into everyday life.

The conference will conclude with a special presentation from Allison Nimlos of Greater Than Counseling, whose work focuses on the connection between diabetes management and mindset. Her closing session will offer encouragement, practical strategies, and hope for living well with diabetes. Whether you have diabetes, care for a loved one with diabetes, or simply want to learn more about preventing chronic disease and living a healthier lifestyle, this conference offers valuable information for everyone.

Protect Your Skin

Skin cancer is common, but one of the most preventable

By Savannah Leiser

White Earth Tribal Public Health Nurse

As the weather warms up and many of us spend more time outdoors, it's the perfect time to think about protecting our skin. Whether you're fishing, gardening, attending powwows, working outside, enjoying time at the lake, or simply taking a walk, your skin is exposed to the sun's ultraviolet (UV) rays. While sunshine has many benefits, too much UV exposure can increase your risk of developing skin cancer.

Skin cancer is the most common type of cancer in the United States, but the good news is that it is also one of the most preventable. Taking a few simple steps to protect your skin can greatly reduce your risk.

What is Skin Cancer?

Skin cancer occurs when skin cells begin to grow abnormally, often as a result of damage caused by ultraviolet (UV) radiation from the sun or tanning beds. There are three main types of skin cancer:

Basal cell carcinoma – The most common type. It grows slowly and is highly treatable when found early.

Squamous cell carcinoma – The second most common type. It can spread if left untreated but is also very treatable when detected early.

Melanoma – The least common but most serious type of skin cancer. Melanoma can spread to other parts of the body if not caught early, making early detection especially important.

Who is at Risk?

Anyone can develop skin cancer, regardless of age or skin tone. While individuals with lighter skin generally have a higher risk, people with darker skin can also develop skin cancer. In darker skin tones, skin cancer is sometimes diagnosed at a later stage because it may not be recognized as quickly.

Other factors that increase risk include:

- Spending a lot of time outdoors without sun protection.
- A history of frequent sunburns, especially during childhood.
- Using tanning beds.
- Having many moles or unusual-looking moles.
- A personal or family history of skin cancer.
- A weakened immune system.

Remember: No one is immune to skin cancer. Everyone benefits from protecting their skin.

Protecting Your Skin

Fortunately, preventing skin cancer doesn't have to be difficult. A few daily habits can make a big difference.

Wear Sunscreen

Use a broad-spectrum sunscreen with an SPF of at least 30. Apply it 15 to 30 minutes before going outside and reapply every two hours, or more often if you're swimming or sweating.

Don't forget areas that are commonly missed, such as your ears, the back of your neck, your scalp if you have thinning hair, the tops of your feet, and your lips. Lip balm with SPF protection is a great way to protect your lips from sun damage.

Seek Shade

The sun's rays are strongest between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. When possible, seek shade during these hours, especially if you'll be outdoors for an extended period.

Cover Up

Clothing provides an extra layer of protection. Consider wearing:

- Long-sleeved shirts
- Long pants or longer shorts
- Wide-brimmed hats that shade your face, ears, and neck
- UV-blocking sunglasses to protect your eyes and the delicate skin around them.

Many outdoor clothing brands also offer garments with built-in UV protection.

Avoid Tanning Beds

There is no safe way to tan using indoor tanning beds. They expose your skin to concentrated UV radiation and significantly increase your risk of developing skin cancer, especially melanoma.

Know Your Skin

One of the best ways to detect skin cancer early is by becoming familiar with your own skin. Check your skin from head to toe about once a month. Use mirrors or ask someone you trust to help examine hard-to-see areas like your back or scalp.

Watch for ABCDE warning signs of melanoma:

A - Asymmetry: One half doesn't match the other.
B - Border: The edges are irregular, uneven, or blurred.

C - Color: Multiple colors or uneven coloring.

D - Diameter: Larger than about 6 millimeters (the size of a pencil eraser), although melanomas can be smaller.

E - Evolving: The spot changes in size, shape, color, or begins to itch or bleed.

Also watch for any sore that doesn't heal, a new growth, or spot that looks different from the others. If you notice anything concerning, schedule an appointment with your healthcare provider.

Early Detection Saves Lives

When skin cancer is found early, treatment is often simpler and more successful. That's why paying attention to changes in your skin and seeking medical care when something doesn't look right is so important.

WHY CHILD SUPPORT MATTERS

Child Support plays an important role in ensuring that children have financial support they need to grow, learn, and thrive. Moms' Walking Club

Each week will feature exercise and health education

By Jackie Haugo
White Earth Tribal Public Health

Looking for a fun way to stay active, meet other moms, and enjoy time outdoors with your little one? Join us for our new Moms' Walking Club, beginning in August!

The Walking Club will meet every Tuesday from 10-11 a.m. at the Mahnomen School Track. Whether you're a new mom, a caregiver, or have young children, this is a great opportunity to connect with other families while incorporating physical activity into your weekly routine.

Participants are encouraged to bring strollers, wear walking shoes, and enjoy a relaxed walk at their own pace. For toddlers who need a break from riding, we will have activities available in the middle of the track, to keep little ones active while moms continue to socialize and burn some calories.

Each week will also feature health education resources on topics such as hydration, exercise and post-partum, nutrition, child development, family wellness, and other health-related information to support you and your family.

As an added bonus, participation incentives will be awarded throughout the program to encourage attendance and celebrate your commitment to a healthy lifestyle.

For the safety and comfort of all participants, pets are not allowed at Walking Club events.

We hope you'll join us this August as we take steps toward healthier families, stronger connections, and a supportive community—one walk at a time!

For more information, please contact Jackie Haugo at 218-401-2421.

Ojibwemowin/Anishinaabemowin is an "indigenous language"; meaning it is native to a region, is spoken by the region's original groups and has minority language status. "Dialect" is region-specific unique speech patterns or word use within the same language. "Orthography" is a standardized way of writing the language. The Double Vowel orthography is commonly used in teaching Ojibwe in MN & WI circles.

SAFE DISPOSAL OF E-CIGARETTES & VAPES

Did You Know? E-cigarettes and vapes contain nicotine and lithium batteries. This makes them hazardous waste.

WHY IT MATTERS

Throwing vapes in the trash or plastic recycling can:

Cause fires

Release toxic chemicals

Harm workers, first responders, and the environment.

WHAT TO DO

Take e-cigarettes to a Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) site.

How to find one:

Contact your local waste service

Or simply Google

SAFE STORAGE AT HOME

Until drop-off, store vapes safely:

Use a closed metal container

Examples: clean soup can or coffee can. This helps prevent fires.

You can also ask Elderly Nutrition cooks to save an empty metal can for you.

DID YOU KNOW?

In the past year, Becker County HHW collected over 500 pounds of vapes.

We can do better—every vape disposed of safely makes a difference.

WHITE EARTH DROP OFF PROCESS

Pick up at White Earth Tribal Public Health

Get a metal can

Pick one up at White Earth Public Health (outside near the raised garden beds, north end of the Tribal Health building) —or use a clean metal can from home

Place empty vapes inside

Store e-cigarettes and vapes in the metal can with the lid closed.

Bring vapes to the White Earth Transfer Station

Empty into the collection can

Dump vapes into the large metal container on site.

They'll be hauled to Becker County for proper disposal.

Teamwork helps build NTW Community Garden

Nicole M. LaFrinier
WE Food Sovereignty and Security Coordinator

Boozhoo nij-Anishinaabedog,
In partnership with Naytahwaush Community Council, Naytahwaush Community Charter School, Naytahwaush Community members, and White Earth Food Sovereignty Initiative, a no-till community garden was built, planted and fenced.
Unlike traditional tilled gardens, a no-dig garden utilizes cardboard and woodchips in the isles and the edges to help keep weeds at bay (less weeding = happier gardener). At the end of the season, roots are left in the soil over winter, this helps keep the topsoil in place. After an inch of compost has been applied in the spring for soil amendment, seeds/plants are directly sowed/transplanted in the garden beds.
Smaller woodchips/garden straw can also be placed in beds around plants to further help combat weeds and hold moisture in longer. This method of gardening also provides housing conditions for mushrooms and mycelium to prosper and improve soil health. Healthy soil means healthy plants. Healthy plants will give healthy fruits, vegetables, and even mushrooms to eat!

The NTW Community Garden has 20 beds that are approximately three feet wide and 42 feet long, which provides over 2,500 feet of gardening space! Even though, this was the last project on the spring to-do list, we were still able to plant a variety of fruits and vegetables that will mature in time.
The majority of the garden beds have some variety of sweet corn that will be ready in succession starting around mid-August. Other vegetables include winter squash, zucchini, potatoes, cantaloupe, cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers, onions, beans, pumpkins, celery, kale, broccoli, cabbage, and cauliflower.
To find out how you can help out in the NTW Community Garden or how to get a garden in your community please contact Nicole LaFrinier, Food Sovereignty Coordinator at 218-935-3562.

White Earth Police dispatcher honored for helping find lost wild rice harvesters

Motorola Solutions (RapidDeploy) recently expressed their appreciation to White Earth Police Dispatcher Anna Paul for her exceptional service, technical expertise, and dedication to public safety.

Anna’s quick thinking and application of RapidLocate helped locate and safely rescue lost harvesters during the 2025 wild rice harvest.

The White Earth Police Department received an urgent call from two tribal members who stated they had been harvesting wild rice, but had gotten lost while trying to return to their canoe and were now experiencing symptoms of dehydration, exhaustion, and disorientation.

The call originated from a remote, wooded area and the callers did not know their precise location. Additionally, their cell phone battery was low and they worried they would lose contact with 911, which further escalated the emergency.

Using Rapid/Deploy Radius Mapping, Paul launched a Rapid/Locate, a feature which sends a secure SMS text to a caller to retrieve precise GPS coordinates from the caller’s mobile service.

Paul used Rapid/Deploy’s SMS capabilities to help maintain open communication with the caller via text updates. Within 90 minutes, both men were safely found and rescued by emergency teams.

Motorola Solutions (RapidDeploy) sent Paul an official Recognition of Honor certificate, presented for her technical excellence, swift action, and commitment to safeguarding the White Earth community.

National Night Out: Building safer communities together

By Lindsey Adams, PHN, BSN, RN
White Earth Public Health

Every year, neighborhoods across the country come together to celebrate National Night Out, a community event that strengthens relationships between residents, local organizations, and law enforcement. This year’s event was held Tuesday, Aug. 4 from 5-7 p.m. at the Waubun football field.

More than just an evening of food and fun, National Night Out is an opportunity to build trust, promote safety, and remind one another that a strong community begins with people who know and care for each other.

Within the White Earth Nation, community has always been at the heart of who we are. Our traditions teach us that we are stronger when we look after one another, share knowledge, and work together for the well-being of future generations. National Night Out reflects these same values by bringing families, Elders, youth, and community partners together in a welcoming environment.

Events like National Night Out give families the chance to connect with local resources that support health and safety. From learning about emergency preparedness and child safety to exploring health services and wellness programs; community members can discover tools that help keep their loved ones safe throughout the year.

our children, families and community.

The contractor started the work on the Elbow Lake Beach. This will be a space for the community to gather and swim.

The new pier is being constructed and will be completed this fall. It will hopefully be delivered in October. It will be put out next summer. The Natural Resource staff pull out the piers in October/early November.

White Earth

A fence was installed all the way around the playground and basketball court to improve safety and prevent vehicles from driving onto the future splash pad. The site survey was being done this week. Splash pad equipment has been ordered. New lighting is also on the way.

We will be replacing the playground equipment in the south projects. The playground equipment was ordered and will be delivered soon. The plan is to install in August. We will also be installing a 20x40 basketball court basketball court.

We are moving forward with Phase 2 of the Tiny Homes project. Two additional tiny homes will soon be placed in White Earth. When the site for the first phase was originally prepared, we planned ahead by installing two additional septic systems. Taking this proactive approach saved money and helped us move forward with the next phase more quickly.

Pine Point

The softball field renovation project is moving forward! While we experienced a slight delay, we worked through the challenges and continue making progress.

The basketball court near the old school will be removed and replaced with a brand new, full-size basketball court providing an upgraded space for youth and community members to enjoy for years to come. We appreciate everyone’s patience and support

For children, National Night Out offers an opportunity to meet first responders and community leaders in a positive, friendly environment. These early interactions can build confidence, reduce fear during emergencies, and help young people understand that many people in the community are here to help and protect them.

This event also reminds us that public safety is everyone’s responsibility. Getting to know our neighbors, checking in on Elders, watching out for children, and supporting one another are simple actions that make our communities healthier and safer. When neighbors know each other, they are more likely to work together, respond during emergencies, and create welcoming places where everyone belongs.

As we gathered for this year’s National Night Out, we celebrate the strength of our community and the connections that unite us. Together, we can continue building a safer, healthier White Earth Nation—one conversation, one family, and one neighborhood at a time.

The community enjoyed an evening focused on community, safety, and family fun! There were fire trucks, police cars, ambulances, Bounce and Beyond inflatables, and on-site multiple attractions for families to enjoy together. It was a great way to celebrate physical health, connect with one another, and build strong protective factors across our community.

We hope to see you next year!

as we continue investing in recreational opportunities for our communities.

Callaway

Ground breaking for the new Callaway Boys and Girls Club was held Aug. 3

The Tribe was gifted a church in Callaway. A community giveaway of the items in the church is tentatively set for Aug. 11 and 12 or until gone.

Kids Day brings smiles and learning to the Farmers Market

By Eva Brakefield, LPN
White Earth Public Health

The Farmers Market celebrated a lively and joyful Kids Day on July 23, welcoming 59 children who explored the market through hands-on activities designed to spark curiosity, confidence, and a love for local food.

Young shoppers kicked off the fun with a produce scavenger hunt, eagerly searching for colorful fruits and vegetables while filling their baskets with favorite home grown treats. The activity encouraged children to interact with local growers, ask questions, and discover new healthy foods in an engaging way.

Another highlight of the day was the Kids Corner at the Market, a cozy space dedicated to reading and creativity. Children were invited to enjoy inspiring, educational stories or spend time crafting, providing a quieter moment amid the excitement of the market. The area serves as an ongoing resource to help strengthen literacy skills and support healthy development.

White Earth Public Health was thrilled to participate, sharing valuable education on the importance of nurturing a love for reading in children. Staff emphasized how literacy builds resilience, supports emotional wellbeing, and strengthens protective factors throughout childhood.

Kids Day not only brought families together—it helped foster connections between health, learning, and local agriculture. The Farmers Market looks forward to creating more opportunities for children to learn, play, and grow within the community.

Anishinaabe Law Conference planned for Oct. 25-27

By Amy Mysko
Niibi Center

Niibi Center is excited to announce official dates for the 3rd Anishinaabe Law Conference, which will take place Oct. 25-27 at the Shooting Star Casino.

After a year off due to organizational changes, we are hopeful to reconnect with the local White Earth Community in a good way around discussions relating to Natural Law. The conference will once again be free for all Tribal members, students, veterans and those who cannot pay due to financial hardship.

On Sunday, Oct. 25th, we will begin the conference in the mid-afternoon with a feast and have an evening Elders panel, along with a keynote featuring land-based teachings from Lindsay Barrows. Other potential speakers for the conference include Leanne Simpson, Sharon Day, Renee Gunneau, and Aimee Craft, who will be returning for a second conference.

One new aspect of this year's conference will be a youth component, with land-based activities, as well as an art exhibit at the finale of the conference. We will also facilitate working groups and breakout discussions to make plans to continue the work of adapting natural law and indigenous wisdom into existing legal systems.

The 3rd Anishinaabe Law Conference will be funded in part by the Earl and Kathy Hoaglund Sacred Manoomin Fund and Carleton College, along with support from the White Earth Tribal Council and the Shooting Star Casino.

The Sacred Manoomin Fund has general scholarships available for Tribal members and descendants, learn more about applying here: <https://catholicrurallife.org/earl-and-kathy-hoaglund-sacred-manoomin-fund-native-american-scholarship-application/>

Honoring Our Veterans

By Budd Parker
White Earth Community Veteran

I was unable to include the following information in the Memorial Day article published in the May Anishinaabeg Today because I was waiting for more information on Larry McKenzie, and I was waiting on the restoration of these photographs of our women veterans who served in World War II and the Vietnam Era.

Larry Dean McKenzie

SGT, Co. D, 1st Battalion, 20th Infantry, 11th Light Inf. Brigade, Americal Div., U.S. Army. The son of Lawrence and Corrine McKenzie of Island Lake Twp., Mahnomen Co. and later of rural Mizpah, Koochiching County.

Larry went into service Nov. 1967 and received training at Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, Ft. Polk, Louisiana, Ft. Benning, Georgia, and Ft. Lewis, Washington before being shipped overseas to Vietnam in Oct. 1968.

Once in country, he was stationed out of Chu Lai serving in Operation Iron Mountain. Around May 1969, he was transferred to Co. D, 1st Battalion and was soon made Platoon Sergeant of 1st Platoon. While operating in Quang Ngai Province, the company had been taking casualties along their way from enemy mortar fire.

They were ordered to locate the position of the VC's mortar launching location. On the afternoon of June 3, 1969, after the mornings casualties were choppered out, the 1st Platoon headed out across a rice paddy, leading the company. Almost immediately the platoon was ambushed in the middle of the paddy, receiving fire from both sides. Larry, aged 22 years, was Killed in Action in this assault.

He is buried in Mizpah Cemetery, Mizpah, Minn. VFW Larry McKenzie Post No. 3869, Northome, Minn. is named in his honor.

Betty June Coughlin

Betty June Coughlin, 87, of Moose Lake, Minn., was reunited with her dear love, Maury, as she peacefully died on June 18 in Moose Lake Village.

She was born on June 28, 1938, in White Earth to Laura and Cecil Cook Sr. Betty grew up in Ogema and attended Waubun High School where she graduated in 1956. She worked at St. Mary’s Hospital in Detroit Lakes and later at Northstar Dairy where she met the love of her life, Maury Coughlin.

On Jan. 17, 1958, Betty and Maury were married in Detroit Lakes, Minn. In 1967, they moved to Moose Lake. Betty was always active with children in her community. She worked as an assistant to Hope Lutheran Nursery School, operated a licensed day care in her home for over 25 years, and assisted with Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. For many in Moose Lake, Betty was one of their first teachers outside the home and those tender young people experienced a caring and nurturing woman who instilled a love of learning and fun with lots of hugs.

While raising her children, young people in the community always knew they were welcome at 320 Cedar and many times they gathered around the table sharing stories, troubles and joys, and seeking adult advice from Maury and Betty. They also immersed themselves in their community and supported, volunteered, and participated in many community endeavors. Betty was involved in Holy Angels Catholic Church, Moose Lake Historical Society, Mercy Hospital Auxiliary, Mercy Foundation, Moose Lake American Legion Auxiliary, and many other community groups and programs. They were honored in 2016 as The Fourth of July Grand Marshalls for supporting the Moose Lake area and making it a better place to raise a family and live. Betty also was an avid sports fan from the Minneota Timberwolves and Lynx to local high school sports.

Betty was preceded in death by her husband, Maury in 2023; father and mother, Cecil Sr. and Laura Cook; brothers, Cecil Jr. (Betty) Cook and Dick (Edith) Cook; sister, Carol Barker (John Kraker) (Tom Barker); sisters-in-law, Ann Glander and Ruth (Larry) Engen.

John “Jack” William McArthur

John “Jack” McArthur, 88, of Detroit Lakes, Minn., passed away on July 25 under the loving care of his family and HIA Hospice.

John William, the oldest son of Bernard and Delphine “Teta” (Ross) McArthur was born in White Earth Township on Nov. 8, 1937. He attended St. Michael’s Catholic School through the 8th grade followed by Mahnomen High School. Jack was an exceptional athlete, excelling and appointed the captain of the basketball, football and track team during his high school years. Following his graduation with the Class of 1955, John was united in marriage to Darlene Bjerken. That fall, he began classes at MSU but soon realized he would need to support a family, so he entered the workforce.

Jack and Darlene moved to Coral Gables, Fla., where his uncle Scotty was able to teach him the trade of becoming a tile setter/installer. He learned quickly and became very efficient at his job. As time went on, Jack and Darlene would be blessed with seven children. The family made their home in various cities but spent quite a bit of time in Detroit Lakes and Fargo, N.D., where he established McArthur Tile Co. After many successful years of self-employment, he decided to retire and Jack moved to Long Lost Lake and proudly built his home from the ground up. Although he and Darlene divorced earlier, they were able to reconnect a couple years ago, and she was a key part of him being able to remain at home until his passing.

Over the years, Jack kept busy with work and family but will be remembered as a “Jack of All Trades.” He was a good listener, a man who only gave advice if asked, not caring for gossip but more “tell it like it was” attitude. He loved to design and build homes, following his grandkids’ sporting activities and just being with family. He proudly passed on his athletic ability and his legacy of tile setting to his grandkids. In his spare time, Jack enjoyed woodworking, listening to music, especially Blue Grass, and more recently working Sudoku puzzles. Jack had so much love and pride for his family. He will be greatly missed by all who were lucky enough to know and love him.

Jack is survived by Darlene McArthur of Detroit Lakes; son, Lincoln (Renae) McArthur of Fargo; daughters: Julie (Tim) Olson, Lorie (Richard) Holmer, Dona (Gary) Rosell, Kari (Dan) Lane and Maggie (Chad) Schmit all of Detroit Lakes; 13 grandchildren; numerous great and great-great grandchildren; brothers: Steven McArthur of Mahnomen, Scott McArthur of Lengby, Minn., and Tim (Barb) McArthur of Mahnomen; sisters: Nancy Bratvold, LaVerne Hisgun and Tammy McArthur all of Mahnomen; brother-in-law, Ron Bellefeuille of Mahnomen; several nieces, nephews, and cousins, and his faithful constant companion, his dog, Buddy.

He was preceded in death by his parents; daughter, Kim McArthur, siblings: Joan “Bunkie” LaFriniere, Mary Ann Keogh, Evelyn Tangen, Lucille Goodwin, Clyde McArthur and Suzie Bellefeuille.

The family would like to acknowledge Chaplain Arlen and the members of the Blue Team of the HIA (Hearts in Action) Hospice team that gave such loving and compassionate care to Jack in his last days at home with family.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held July 31 at St. Michael’s Catholic Church in Mahnomen.

Interment: Oak Grove Cemetery in Detroit Lakes.

Arrangements: Anderson Family Funeral Home of Mahnomen.

All Nations Rise welcome visitors to White Earth Reservation community

By Marlena Hanson
All Nations Rise

On July 8, All Nations Rise had the honor of welcoming the Family Well-Being Strategy Group, along with partners from the Equity & Inclusion, Strategic Communications, and Child Welfare Policy teams from the Annie E. Casey Foundation, to the White Earth Tribal community for an immersive learning experience rooted in Indigenous knowledge, healing, and relationship-building. We were also honored to have White Earth District III Representative Laura Lee Erickson join us, demonstrating her support for strengthening families, preserving culture, and advancing community well-being.

A meaningful part of the experience was hearing the powerful boarding school reflections shared by Phyllis Bunker. Her personal story offered a moving reminder of the lasting impacts of Indian Boarding Schools on Indigenous children, families, and communities, while underscoring the importance of truth-telling, healing, and ensuring these histories are never forgotten.

Throughout the experience, participants learned from Indigenous parent leaders, Elders, and community members through the Indigenous Parent Leadership Initiative, engaging in Circle, tobacco teachings, dreamcatcher making, storytelling, and conversations centered on Indigenous approaches to parent leadership, family well-being, and community-led healing. Together, we explored both the impacts of family separation and the resilience, strength, and cultural knowledge that continue to guide our communities today.

This gathering was about more than learning—it was about building relationships, creating space for reflection, listening with open hearts, and strengthening our collective commitment to keeping families together, honoring Indigenous cultures, and advancing equity in child welfare.

Miigwech to Phyllis Bunker for courageously sharing her story, to White Earth District III Representative Laura Lee Erickson for joining us, to Dr. Marilyn Zimmerman, and to our parent leaders, Elders, community members, and everyone who helped make these two days possible. We are grateful to all who joined us with respect and humility, and we look forward to continuing this important work together.

acute care, where I stayed until my court matters were resolved. After nine months, I graduated from my second treatment program in a year, and I entered drug court to keep myself out of prison. Building a support network, attending meetings and ceremonies, and simply putting myself and my family first is what keeps me going.

In my nearly two years of sobriety, I have married my best friend, repaired my relationships with my family, found a steady job, secured housing, and proven to my communities that I am a good man. The person I used to be was just caught in addiction. I view my sobriety as a second chance at life; I protect it daily and seek every opportunity to keep growing, becoming better and stronger.

I am deeply grateful to my wife for never giving up on me and standing by my side through it all. I am also grateful to my family, my support network, and my friends for helping guide me and teaching me the tools to fight addiction.

I am writing to share my personal history as I actively seek support and work toward my ongoing recovery. My name is Lindsey. I am 41 years old, and I am a mother, daughter, sister, aunt, and cousin who has struggled with alcoholism and addiction.

My struggles began early in life. My father drank, and I first tasted beer when I was five or six years old. When I was 12, my father passed away in a car accident, and my life changed drastically. I began smoking cigarettes and missing school. At 14, I tried marijuana a few times due to peer pressure, but I did not like how it made me feel. Things escalated when I was 17; I got drunk for the first time, which resulted in a blackout, and I also tried methamphetamine. I found myself drawn to its effects, as it made me feel more attractive, talkative, energetic, and less shy. It made me feel like my problems disappeared and that people liked me more.

Over the years, I had children and used substances on and off. I have struggled with addiction for a long time and have entered treatment numerous times. In 2015, I faced a fifth-degree charge and was sentenced to five years of probation. I found myself trapped in a cycle of doing well for a period before relapsing, experiencing unhealthy relationships, facing homelessness, and spending time in jail. During these difficult times, I stayed wherever I could, including with my mother.

My situation grew more dangerous as my drinking worsened, culminating in a frightening car accident. Sometime after that, I met Zach. He was someone I could relate to, who listened to me without judgment, and whom I wanted to be around. Despite finding this support, I continued to struggle, my life felt stagnant, and I eventually tried fentanyl.

I shared my desire for a different life with Zach. I want to be a better person, a better mother, and to rebuild relationships with my children. Recognizing my need to commit to sobriety, I completed a Rule 25 assessment and entered a treatment program. Unfortunately, I made the decision to leave after two weeks. About a week after checking out, I found myself on a self-destructive path and suffered a near-fatal overdose.

Waking up in the emergency room was an eye-opening experience. I was crying, trying to remember what happened, but I was ultimately happy to be alive. Determined never to return to that point, I went back to treatment and fully committed to the process. I did everything I was supposed to do and graduated from my aftercare program for the first time.

Since then, I have built a strong support network that includes my probation officer, Mat’s program, and therapy. I attend ceremonies and meetings, work a full-time job, and have secured housing. I am also actively repairing my relationships with my children and my mother. Furthermore, I married my best friend, Zach, who has been my biggest support alongside my children. I am still fighting every day, and I am now coming up on two years of sobriety.

I am sharing this history because I am deeply committed to changing my life and am looking for the right path forward to maintain lasting sobriety. I would greatly appreciate any guidance, resources, or support you can provide as I take these next steps.

Best regards,
Lindsey

I am Zach. I started using marijuana at about 14 years old. At first, it was just to fit in, but it quickly turned into a habit to help manage my temper. I used that until my early 20s, when I briefly tried cocaine and crack. Eventually, I was introduced to pills—first hydrocodone, and then oxycodone. Because I had a decent job, I was able to function as an addict for a long time.

When pills became difficult to find, I turned to heroin to satisfy the cravings. Soon after, I began using methamphetamine to balance out the effects of the heroin. Eventually, the heroin turned into fentanyl, and I was completely hooked. My addiction ultimately cost me my family and my job, sent me to prison, and kept me trapped in a downward spiral for a long time.

The losses of my sister and my mom drove me even deeper into my addiction. Having lost everything, I barely had a place to go and couch-surfed constantly, feeling like I was just living for the day. I kept getting into trouble with the law and was on the verge of returning to prison. After 19 years of opiate addiction, I tried to get help by entering an inpatient program. I did well for six months, but because I failed to maintain my boundaries, I relapsed, left treatment, and fell back into the spiral.

Later, I met Lindsey. At first, we were both using, but she would confront me about my fentanyl addiction. I would tell her I would try to stop, but I never did. Eventually, she started using as well because of me. An overdose changed everything, and after getting into legal trouble, I landed in jail. Facing years of prison time, all I could do was pray. I arranged a chemical dependency assessment while in jail, thinking it was a long shot, but I ended up securing a bed at Mash-ka-wisen.

During the two months I spent there, something awoke in me. Something clicked as I reconnected with my culture. I then moved back home to enter

WETCC-Community Extension hosts annual Berry Camp celebrating Ojibwe traditions

By Maria Fatz

Community Extension Coordinator
White Earth Tribal & Community College

White Earth Tribal and Community College Community Extension brought together 72 students, staff, and community members for its annual Mawinzowi-Gabeshiwin (Berry Camp), offering three days of hands-on learning centered on Ojibwe culture, language, and traditional practices.

Held July 14-16, the camp featured a variety of interactive activities that encouraged participants to connect with the land while learning traditional skills. Attendees harvested wild blueberries, prepared berry jam and compote, crafted wild rice knockers, played baaga'adowewin (traditional stick ball), and painted flowerpots.

Throughout the camp, participants also learned Ojibwemowin verbs associated with each activity, reinforcing language revitalization alongside cultural education. Featured vocabulary included baashkiminsiganike ("s/he cooks until it explodes") for berry compote making, baashkiminasiganike ("s/he makes jam") for berry jam making, zhizhoobi'ige ("s/he paints") for painting pots, bawa'iganike ("s/he makes wild rice knockers"), baaga'adowe ("s/he plays stick ball") for traditional lacrosse, and mazinibii'ige ("s/he colors") for the coloring station.

This annual camp provides an opportunity for participants of all ages to strengthen community connections while engaging in land-based learning and cultural traditions.

2026 Berry Camp was made possible through funding by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Institute of Food and Agriculture (USDA/NIFA) and with the support of community partners.

White Earth annual Elders Picnic

Photos by Gary W. Padrta

The annual White Earth Elder Picnic was held July 10 at the Rediscovery Center on White Earth Lake. It was a wonderful celebration filled with connection, laughter, and community spirit. With 498 elders in attendance, the day was lively and full of joy as friends reunited, new memories were made, and everyone enjoyed good food, great company, and beautiful weather. This gathering remains one of our most cherished traditions—an opportunity to honor our elders, share stories, and create a welcoming space where everyone feels valued and appreciated. The ENP staff would like to thank all the volunteers from other departments that helped us get through this busy day.
