

20th Annual Brain Conference – Cancelled

Greetings,

It has been with much deliberation from our committee for the Community Collaborative Conference what to do as we considered options for this year's 20th Annual Brain Conference but determining the most appropriate action while adjusting to meet the unique needs and circumstances of these times. With saddened regards, our only option is to cancel this year's conference.

We acknowledge the disruption and hardship this may be causing so many and the last thing we want is to cause more financial strain on people, but we perceive the conference registrations will be impacted. We are hoping to continue next years conference in August 2021.
