ARMHS is a range of services that helps an individual develop and enhance psychiatric stability, social competencies, personal and emotional adjustment, and independent living and community skills.

THERAPY SERVICES

Therapy services are based on the individual, child, and family needs, and are offered at varying levels of involvement, such as crisis intervention, individual and family counseling sessions, home-based services, family and community support services, and clinic-based assessments. We also offer diagnostic assessments and psychological evaluations. Services draw on traditional Anishinaabe cultural values and parenting practices.

CHILDREN AND ADULT MENTAL HEALTH TARGETED CASE MANAGEMENT

Many families experience the need for assistance when dealing with mental health issues that may arise with themselves or their children. Case management services help adults with a serious and persistent mental illness (SPMI) and children with a severe emotional disturbance (SED), to gain access to needed medical, social, educational, vocational, financial, and other necessary services as they relate to the recipient's mental health needs. The goals of case management are first and foremost focused on improving the client's clinical, functional, emotional, and psychosocial status.

CHILDREN'S THERAPEUTIC SERVICES AND SUPPORTS (CTSS)
